

The Confederació de Comerç de Catalunya (Retail Confederation of Catalonia, CCC)

The Confederació de Comerç de Catalunya (CCC) is a business association established to defend, represent and promote the general interests of the commerce, service and tourism sectors in Catalonia.

Established in 1985, the CCC now brings together some 400 trade, service, tourism and similar guilds and associations, which together represent more than 90,000 companies and 300,000 workers in Catalonia.

Over the last 20 years and more, the CCC has promoted countless initiatives aimed at Catalan trades people, providing them with the most effective tools to increase their competitiveness.

The Confederation has also established a vocal presence in all political and social spheres and forums where trade has something to say. As regards business organisations, for example, the CCC is the only trade association that maintains formal links with employers' organisations in Spain and Europe, that is to say, with the Confederación Española de Comercio (Spanish Retail Association) and EuroCommerce. Similarly, as a business organisation, the CCC has also entered the business sphere, taking its place on the top decision-making bodies of Foment de Treball Nacional in Catalonia and the CEPYME in Madrid.

The services offered by the CCC are, among others:

- Language Service: text correction and translation to different languages, assistance with linguistic queries and linguistic legislation, etc.
- Provision for legal labour and tax advising, as for instance for collective agreements.
- Training courses for employers and employees from the tourist and services sector.
- Information about commercial legislation, public health, permissions, labels, subsidies, etc.
- Services and products offer in special conditions for the CCC members.
